

Conversation between Professor Dame Sally Davies and Professor Deb Hall, Rebecca Dewey, Margaret Levin, and Mat Daniel

Professor Deb Hall: I want Dame Sally to know that we have a young and enthusiastic research Unit

Professor Dame Sally Davies: I loved visiting because the research team are enthusiastic about their work and I think they are a lovely team

Professor Dame Sally Davies:

- It's a lovely Unit
- When the Unit was first set up, NIHR gave some money. The money was well invested. The Unit is doing some very important new research.

Professor Dame Sally Davies:

- It is important to do research about hearing loss because lots of people suffer from it.
- It can affect their lives and some people can feel alone and isolated.
- We need more hearing research and the Unit can do this.
- This work can improve the lives of people with hearing problems.
